Boho Texture & Layering Cheat Sheet

Master cozy, uncluttered boho layers for a relaxed Sunday vibe.

Confidently mix multiple textures and correctly size your layered rugs. Use this guide to build a calm, cohesive boho space rooted in natural elements.

Key Boho Measurements

12-18 in
Sisal border width, based on kilim

3 mm
Natural jute twine thickness for cords

4-5 in
Hot glue spacing on wrapped cords

65-70 in
Macrame swag height, keeping eye-level

14-16 in
Low-slung lounge seat height

2 in
Extra ease for slub linen slipcovers

36 in
Clear walking space around layered rugs

60/30/10 %
Neutral, texture, and pattern ratio

Pre-shrink your linen slipcovers

Wash your pure linen slipcover on cold and air dry before fitting. Leave it naturally wrinkled to embrace that effortless, lived-in cozy boho vibe.

Select Your Base Rug Material

Find your row: Your room's foot traffic

Your room's foot traffic	Your pick	Why
Very high traffic	Sisal base layer	Stiff and coarse texture
Medium traffic	Jute base layer	Soft and chunky texture
High traffic	Seagrass base layer	Smooth and rigid texture

Check Before You Layer

- ○ Measure your floor to ensure adequate clear walking space.
- ○ Check your ceiling for joists before hanging heavy macrame planters.
- ○ Verify your jute cord wrapping stops safely short of plugs.
- ○ Check hardware packaging for the right toggle bolt weight rating.

Boho Texture Shopping List

- ☐ Large sisal rug to build a calm, durable base
- ☐ Colorful patterned kilim rug to anchor the seating area
- ☐ Non-slip felt pad to prevent shifting on hardwoods
- ☐ Lounge chair with an exposed warm walnut or ash frame
- ☐ Rust or terracotta fringed throw blanket for visual contrast
- ☐ Authentic, unblended natural jute twine for disguising lamp cords
- ☐ Low-temperature hot glue gun to safely secure twine
- ☐ Trailing pothos in a plastic nursery pot inside cachepot

My Boho Layering Notes

Enjoy mixing these rich textures to create your perfectly relaxed, cozy Sunday retreat!