Grocery-Bunch Arranging Sheet

Turn standard supermarket flowers into a stunning, professional centerpiece.

Eliminate the guesswork from your weekly floral refresh. Use this guide to perfectly measure, prep, and arrange your blooms.

Prep & Proportions

1 drop
Bleach to scrub the vase clean

Halfway
Fill level with lukewarm tap water

1 packet
Floral food dissolved in the water

1 inch
Space between clear tape grid strips

45 degrees
Sharp angle for all stem cuts

3-to-4 inches
Length of offcuts for bud jars

Dry The Glass Rim

Even a single drop of water causes the tape grid to slide inward. Wipe the top completely dry with a microfiber cloth before applying the adhesive.

The Assembly Order

1. Greens in first Angle outward toward the rim to build a supportive nest, leaving the center squares completely open.
2. Nest focal blooms Tuck the heaviest flowers slightly lower, crossing each new stem diagonally in one consistent spiral direction.
3. Add delicate fillers Weave secondary flowers into empty spaces to soften the shape, rotating the vase as you work.
4. Style the trimmings Cut sprays at the natural botanical fork and place the short side shoots into extra jars.

Stem Cut Lengths

Find your row: Your Vase Shape

Your Vase Shape	Your pick	Why
Tall cylinder	1.5× vase height	Balances long-stem roses and elegant lilies
Bud jar	2.0× vase height	Perfect for short alstroemeria and offcuts
Wide bowl	1.0× vase height	Supports heavy, dense focal blooms
Pitcher	1.5× pitcher height	Fits loose, casual wildflower mixes
Mason jar	1.25× vase height	Suits standard mixed supermarket bunches

Supermarket & Maintenance Checks

- ○ Check bucket water; avoid cloudy water or slimy, discolored stems.
- ○ Pinch rose bases gently; a firm base indicates a fresh flower.
- ○ Inspect upper foliage for brown spots or dry, curling edges.
- ○ Measure where stems hit the water level to strip lower leaves.
- ○ Check the water line every morning to keep stem ends submerged.

My Floral Notes

Enjoy your beautiful, fresh blooms and the bright energy they bring to your home!