6-Foot Table Zoning Map

Style a beautifully balanced graduation grazing and memory station.

Divide your standard folding table into distinct sections to organize the party experience. This simple zoning strategy prevents bottlenecks and creates a seamless flow for guests.

Utensils Placed Last

Keep forks at the far right edge so guests have both hands free to serve themselves before grabbing a bundled napkin from a mason jar.

Adapt To Your Theme

Find your row: Your party aesthetic

Your party aesthetic	Your pick	Why
Rustic backyard BBQ	Bare wood & checkered	Relaxed outdoor-friendly grazing
Modern minimalist	Clear acrylic & black	Sleek contemporary gallery feel
Boho floral garden	Macrame & pampas grass	Soft textured garden celebration

Prep Your Table Base

- ○ Ensure hidden bases are at least two inches wider than platters.
- ○ Use reinforced crates or sturdy boxes, avoiding flimsy shipping cardboard.
- ○ Tape boxes down securely before draping the tablecloth over them.
- ○ Verify tallest dessert stands are placed toward the back edge.

Building Charcuterie Cups

1. Base layer Fill the bottom with mixed nuts to anchor the portion securely.
2. Middle layer Stack three to four cheese cubes directly on top of the nuts.
3. Top layer Fan folded salami evenly across the rim of the cup.
4. Garnish Tuck a fresh rosemary sprig behind the meat for an elegant finish.
